brought to you by

Professor Ron Fox is a 63-year-old Physics professor here at Georgia Tech. He's been playing racquetball since 1975 (before most of you were born) and is challenging all undergraduate students to try and "beat the old man!"

Email ron.fox@physics.gatech.edu to set up a game. Include your name and the date and time you'd like to play (after Noon).

ALL PARTICIPANTS will receive a free t-shirt!

Look for the names of winners and those defeated by Professor Fox near the CRC racquetball courts.
